Prague, 31st January 2007 – If you ever wondered whether using prepaid calling cards is the right choice for you, Sunnysoft has the answer. Company brand new application will take away any doubts you might have for making cheap calls with prepaid cards. One and only tool of it kind, Sunnysoft Calling Card makes using prepaid cards quick and comfortable. You will not tell the difference between making regular calls. The only difference is much lower rate.

Sunnysoft Software Development Director, Ing. Jaroslav Prchal, comments on the newest part of Sunnysoft portfolio: “ What we had in mind was a tool that will be in line with needs of our clients. It means, application that really does work for them so they can spend their time more effectively. We know that a lot of business people travel and want to stay in control of what happens to their phone bill. We came with perfect solution to do it effortlessly. “

Sunnysoft Calling Card is designed for both Smartphone and PocketPC. Using prepaid calling card can take up a lot of your time. You need to dial the provider number and follow set of instructions to be able to place a call. Moreover, you are forced to keep the card with you, or copy all the PIN, access and account numbers to always have them on you. Such time and sometimes also nerve consuming procedure can be part of the past. That is the main contribution of Sunnysoft Calling Card. Just specify call sequence, enter all access and PIN numbers in simple form once and save it. Then activate the application in your device. You can even define which calls are to be made with the prepaid card. All outgoing calls, international or home calls? Or you want to have it under control completely and be asked before making a call? The application is compatible with any operator or service provider, any type and number of prepaid cards can be entered. Then next time you want to make a call with prepaid card, just dial number from contact list.
